Spark and FCCN Payments

We want to thank you and the programs you are working with for your patience during the extended delay of processing Spark support and incentive payments and FCCN participation payments. During the period where the contract details were being finalized, we were unable to send these payments. Here is the most current information:

- We have been processing Spark support and incentive payments for the last couple of weeks.
- We have received the information from DELC which will allow us to proceed with the FCCN payments. We have a new form which is in the final stages of translation and will be in the secure portal by early next week. Please be sure you and your programs use this form once it is available.
- The major change to this form is the documentation of the program's goals. As the current form does not have a space to include this, we have reached out to QIS to send us the program's goals. This can be done by sending in any document you may have (such as your MOU) with the goals on it, or simply sending us an email with the program name and goal. As soon as we receive it, we can process their payment.
- Programs do not need to be participating in Spark to apply for FCCN funds.

We will discuss this further at our December 14th webinar.
